

Pastor ready to dye for the cause

PHILIP WOOD/AUBURN JOURNAL

Pastor Rob Patterson of Bell Road Baptist Church in Auburn has pink hair this week, fulfilling the promised reward for the winner of a children's contest, pitting boys against the girls, to raise funds for Liberia and Pakistan. The girls won by raising about $700, but Patterson said that both teams conspired to select hot pink for his new hair color. The contest raised $1,200, which will go to scholarships in Liberia and for Bible clubs in Pakistan. Patterson is set to challenge the church's adults to match the $1,200. To find out more Patterson's efforts, go to Web site www.pastorob.com.